

MONEY STRESS WILL DIM GLORY OF HORSE SHOW

Many Social Leaders Will Be Absent From Boxes They Formerly Occupied.

AUTO DISPLACES HORSE

All Classes for Old Features and New Special Prizes Are Well Filled.

The twenty-third annual Horse Show that will be ushered in at Madison Square Garden on Monday will not be quite the brilliant social pageant of former years. The money stress will dim some of its former glory, and there will be many gaps in the box tiers where beauty, fine raiment and occasional guests were formerly on parade.

It is doubtful if even social boundaries will be found to all the gaps, though the management hopes that when the show is in full swing, the panic-stricken millionaires may perk up and take a lively interest in the exhibition of the horse and the horse.

It is said that while there has been a sad falling off in the sale of boxes, society belief in this matter for the first time in many years, the seats back of them have been sold in quite as large numbers as on any previous season.

Auto Displaces Horse. That the horse is not the attraction he has been must be conceded by the most rabid enthusiasts. The automobile has been so firmly established as an institution that the annual motor shows are each year attracting more attention, and in a measure, absorbing some of the glamor so long attached to the horse show.

In some social circles the horse is looked upon almost as an antique, only to be exhibited over a museum, and even then the enthusiasm is not entirely genuine; rather, it is a case of good form.

However, the show of horse flesh in the big tent year by year continues to be the standard set in the beginning and steadily improved from year to year. The winners of the many summer shows will all be out, and they are of an unusually high quality. Changes in the classification of the horse have a little with each year, but the majority of the classes have settled down to a standard and will be found from year to year to be the same in every respect, so that breeders and owners now know just what is expected of their horses.

New Special Class. Among the new special classes this year is the Forest King, a cup for six horses, which was offered by William H. Moore, of Chicago, to take the place of the King of Kings. This he won last year with his great horse, for which the cup is named. The cup is valued at $500, and must be won three times by the owner before becoming his property. Forest King is not eligible.

Among the entries for the prize are Kinging Bell, Lord Baltimore, Hildred, Scotland's Queen, Kinging, Naia and Lord Bunker, and the contest is expected to be closer than in years among the six horses.

Another new prize is the James T. Hyde Cup, for five-gaited saddle horses in which the Kentucky horse will have the ring to himself, and he will be compelled to go against the pack back of the regular classes.

For Saddle Horses. Forest King, however, will be in the show and try for the English hackney challenge cup against some of the horses in the six horse class, together with Kinging, King of Kings, Pride of Pride and Lady William. There is also another new special for saddle horses, the Holland House challenge cup for the best hackney, and it has a goodly number of entries, among them being Artie's Model, Mayo, Sunrise, Brian, Wynona and Lady Donald. Another new special is the Gold Lack Cup, for single horses shown to a ladies' pleasure, and it has been made among the owners being A. G. Vanderbilt, George H. Moore, H. D. Holloway, Miss Bedford, Mrs. Hooley and the Fairmont and the Sandy Point farms.

The four-in-hand classes are filled well this year among the owners being Rex Gerken, W. Watson, Carr Brothers, H. S. Moore, J. H. Moore, George Watson, A. G. Vanderbilt and G. C. Thompson.

Kaiser Emphasizes Influence of the Press. Meets London Newspapermen and in Cordial Talk Gives Some Advice.

LONDON, Nov. 15.—Emperor William, who came to London to-day from Windsor Castle to receive numerous deputations at the German Embassy, was especially cordial to the newspaper men who presented him with an address. The Emperor said:

"The power you wield is great and most beneficial when exerted in the direction of promoting feelings of friendship among the nations. Your address proves that you have this task at heart. I am glad to meet you, and I hope you will continue to foster the friendly sentiments between our two nations, which are so necessary to the peace of Europe. We are of the same race and religion, the which should prove strong enough to keep us in harmony and friendship."

STOCKS ADVANCE IN BRISK MARKET

New York Central, Steel and Northern Pacific Prominent in the Trading.

A narrow drift of prices to-day accompanied the opening dealings in stocks, which were of a desultory character, and small fractional declines were in the majority, but there was a fair sprinkling of gains, including the U. S. Steel, New York Central and Northern Pacific. Atlantic Coast Line rose 1/4 American Car preferred sold at a decline of 1/4. Atchafalaya and Toledo, St. Louis & Western preferred 1/4.

There was a general recovery in later dealings, the list showing gains of about a point. Business was brisk. The marked weakness of a few stocks in the final dealings was attributed to belated closing out of a large account and when this was completed, prices rallied vigorously to the top. Buffalo, Susquehanna and Western preferred showed a decline of 1/2. International Paper preferred 1/2 with a rally of 1/2. Atchafalaya 1/4, U. S. Rubber first preferred 1/4, American locomotive 1/4, Baltimore and Ohio 1/4, and Union Pacific, Toledo, St. Louis and Western preferred, American Woolen preferred and Republican Steel preferred about a point.

On the rally Union Pacific, St. Paul, Canadian Pacific, Southern Pacific preferred, Adirondack Copper and the U. S. Steel stocks rose 1/2 or more over last night. Corn Products preferred and International Pump preferred 1/4. American Smelting and Pennsylvania 1/4 and Reading 1/4. The market closed strong and brisk.

The closing prices. Today's highest, lowest and closing prices of stocks as compared with yesterday's final figures are as follows:

WOULD ABOLISH 'GROWLER.'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The ancient custom of rucking the growler is in danger. District Commissioner McFarland has recommended to the Excise Board that the can be no longer used. His idea is that saloon-keepers applying for renewal of licenses be required to abandon the bottle trade. If the stipulation is violated the license shall not be renewed the following year.

The Commissioner's suggestion is under consideration by the board.
